Life Savings Protection

CUNA Mutual's Life Savings Protection

is designed to reward you and your family for your savings.

It provides your family with a single lump sum payment to cover end of life expenses in the event of your death. The value of this payment is directly linked to your savings. Generally, the more you save, the higher the benefit payment*.

This gives you a level of additional cover you simply would not get with traditional banking institutions.

Life Savings Protection is a feature of your membership with your Credit Union. You do not have an insurance policy with CUNA Mutual, however your Credit Union takes out a Group Life Policy to provide the benefits to its members.

To find out how your Life Savings can be protected, talk to your Credit Union about Life Savings Protection today.
